

Cedar Park

CEDAR PARK IS KNOWN FOR ITS OUTSTANDING SCHOOLS, PRO-BUSINESS CLIMATE AND RELAXED FAMILY ENVIRONMENT

Cedar Park is a vibrant community situated on the northern border of Austin just 17 miles from downtown. It is named for an actual park that was a rail stop in the late 1800's. True to our namesake Cedar Park now features 1,000 acres of City-owned parkland and 31 miles of trails. Today's population is about 82,192 and is consistently ranked by the U.S. Census Bureau as one of the Fastest-Growing Cities in the Country. We're a bustling high-tech employer hub, too, with a median age of 34.74 years, 49.7 percent with a Bachelor's Degree or higher and a median household income of $103,370.

Cedar Park is also home to two professional sports teams: the 2014 Calder Cup-winning AHL Hockey League Champion Texas Stars, affiliates of the NHL Dallas Stars; the 2012 and 2018 NBA G-League Champions, the Austin Spurs and affiliates of the five-time NBA World Champion San Antonio Spurs. The Stars and Spurs play at H-E-B Center, a City-owned facility is a multi-purpose venue that holds up to 8,700 guests and hosts more than 130 events per year.

BUSINESS

Cedar Park boasts an energetic and diverse mix of businesses in the software, biotech, advanced manufacturing and oil exploration industries. Fortune 500 company National Oilwell Varco is a major employer in Cedar Park. Cedar Park is also home and headquarters for several high tech employers including Firefly, Aerospace, Hyliion, ETS-Lindgren, Additive Manufacturing Technologies, ABEO and Corvalent, along with industrial manufacturers such as Voltabox, Visual Lighting Technologies, BMC West Materials and BMC Millworks and James Avery Artisan Jewelry.

In addition, Cedar Park has a growing number of innovative high tech firms that have moved to the City such as Fallbrook Technologies, Corvalent, Dana Corporation's Cedar Park Technology Center, Voltabox, Firefly Aerospace and Seranova. These companies enjoy Cedar Park's pro-business climate, highly skilled workforce, low cost of doing business and easy access to Austin.

Cedar Park ranks among the best small cities for families based on small cities with the best combination of affordability, growth and prosperity, and family-friendliness.
